THE VIRTUE OF REPUBLICAN INSTITUTIONS.—The republican bubble which, according to an obscure politician, burst four years ago, is affording at present an example of the working of the popular institutions well deserving of the consideration of statesmen. How comes it that Johnson, the tailor of Tennessee, like Lincoln, the rail splitter of Illinois, before him, can so temperately and judiciously use his great power?

We do not entrust our tailors, even with a vote for a man to represent them in the House of Commons; but here is an example of a tailor proving himself qualified to undertake the task of ruling a great nation, and he compares advantageously with the kings and statesmen of Europe. We saw, in the case with which the Republic could bear the strain of a tremendous war, the excellence of popular institutions in their general working.

We can contemplate in President Johnson a specimen of the men by which these results are worked out. No doubt, all tailors have not the genius of Andrew Johnson, nor all rail splitters the honesty and rare political instincts of Abraham Lincoln; but how comes it that, in conducting a war and in concluding a peace, the United States should have hit upon these two exceptional rulers, sprung from the industrial ranks?

The answer is, that when the people govern—the whole people, and not the privileged fragments of the nation—the ablest men will, as a general rule, find their way to the front, and thus, in seasons of emergency, the interests of the country are confided to the care, not of antiquated imbecility, but of genius, of skill, and of statesmanship. Those institutions cannot be radically defective which, in a season of trial, so rapidly brought out two such rulers as Lincoln and Johnson, and two such soldiers as Grant and Sherman. Is it not worth trying, after such an experience, whether our artisans and rail-splitters are fit to give a vote?—London Star.

ORIGIN OF THE OLD DOMINION.—During the Protectorate of Cromwell, the colony of Virginia refused to acknowledge his authority, and declared itself independent. Shortly after, when Cromwell threatened to send a fleet and army to reduce Virginia to subjection, the alarmed Virginians sent a message to Charles II., who was then an exile in Flanders, inviting him to return in the ship with the messenger, and be King of Virginia. Charles accepted the invitation, and was on the eve of embarkation, when he was called to the throne of England. As soon as he was fairly seated on his throne, in gratitude for the loyalty of Virginia, he caused her coat of arms to be quartered with those of England, Ireland and Scotland, as an independent member of the empire, a distinct portion of the "old dominion." Hence arose the origin of the term.—S. F. Flag.

UNION STATE CONVENTION.

The voters of the several counties of Oregon who have been and are in favor of maintaining the supremacy of the Union, the Constitution and the laws of the United States, against all opposition, are respectfully invited to hold Conventions according to the usual custom, for the election of Delegates to a Union State Convention, to be held at Corvallis on the 29th day of March, 1866, for the purpose of nominating candidates for Governor, Member of Congress, Secretary of State, State Treasurer and State Printer. We respectfully recommend the holding of County Conventions throughout the State on Saturday, the 17th day of March, 1866, at which time Delegates to the State Convention can be selected. It is also recommended that the precinct meetings be held on Saturday, the 10th day of March. W. C. WATSON, Secretary.

The Work for the Union Party.

The work which the Union party of Oregon has before it, was defined by the State Central Committee last week, and ought at once to begin. We are now entering upon another contest with our political opponents. The position they took during the rebellion caused them to be regarded rather as enemies of the country than as a mere political party whose aim was to solve disputes at the ballot-box in a lawful and peaceful way. Good citizens, solicitous for the welfare of the country, cannot yet choose but consider them in a different light than as men fit to be entrusted with political power. Time was, before the rebellion, when the defeat or success of any political party would not endanger the peace and well-being of the nation. That time may come again, but it is not come now. The general success of the semi-traitorous "Democratic" party of the North at any election during the past five years, would have resulted in the permanent dismemberment of the Union. Its success now would prevent restoration on such a basis as would afford lasting peace. Therefore we have the same incentive now to battle against it that we had during the fearful struggle of arms through which the country has triumphantly past.

Oregon's record during the great conflict has been unimpeachable, and it is the duty of the Union party to see that it remains so during the scarcely less perilous times which are now upon the country. The Union men of Oregon have another victory within their reach, and it devolves upon them to look to it that through apathy, over-confidence, or any other cause, the victory do not slip from them. With a good State ticket, and with our best men as nominees in the various counties, we cannot fail. In all cases, let our best men be named as candidates, and let all work with a will to keep the name of Oregon inscribed on the bright list on which every one of her loyal sisters is now enrolled. Oregon must not and will not be the first to abandon the position which she has all along so proudly occupied.

In a few weeks more the contest will be fairly joined. In the meantime Unionists should make every preparation for it. They should organize in every county and make a thorough canvass of all the voters in every precinct. In this way our friends in each county can ascertain precisely how matters stand and what they will have to do to make victory as signal as sure.

Wagon Trade and Travel.

Not long ago we published a comparative view of the facilities for trade and travel from California to Montana by the Columbia river route and by that via Salt Lake. Some of our California cotemporaries admitted that the comparison was very fairly drawn, and that the advantages were decidedly in favor of the Oregon route. The Golden Era, however, thinks that our statements were inaccurate in some particulars. That paper then proceeds to state that the traveler, instead of requiring twelve days to go from San Francisco to Salt Lake City, may easily perform the trip in much less than half that time. "Mr. Louis McLane recently made the trip from San Francisco to Salt Lake in three days, seventeen hours and twenty minutes." This is probable; but how many persons in traveling the same distance of 800 miles, would perform the journey in less than thrice the time? The "pony express" used to cross the plains in six or seven days, but no one ever pretended that travelers generally could cross the continent at so rapid a rate until a railroad should be built. We have information from many persons that the average time consumed by travelers between San Francisco and Salt Lake City is not less than twelve days. As we have shown heretofore, the whole trip from San Francisco to the Montana mines, via the Columbia river, may be performed within that time.

A movement is on foot in California to establish an overland route from that State to the mining districts of Montana. The Sacramentans expect to find a road from the Truckee Pass down the Truckee river to Big Bend, passing east of Pyramid Lake, and between the Mud lakes and the Humboldt river to Owyhee and Boise; and thence to the Blackfoot country. Of course teams can find their way through to Boise on this route; but to get through from there to Blackfoot with wagons would be exceedingly difficult. Some of the highest and most rugged mountains in the West lie between those two places, and they can be avoided only by making a very long detour—if indeed they can be avoided at all. Besides, the great length of the route must render it impracticable for transporting supplies in wagons, even if the road were easily passable.

Many Californians are looking with interest toward Montana. The journals of that State say there are few localities where the notes of preparation is not heard for the journey to the new Territory. The Golden Era admits that "Oregon will have a preponderating share of the travel," and adds that "the steamers between San Francisco and Portland are likely to be crowded to their utmost capacity as soon as the season permits."

LEWISTON AND THE MONTANA TRADE.—Lewiston is preparing to enter upon a vigorous contest for the trade of Montana. A company has been organized and the means provided to open a trail through from that town to Bitter Root valley, from which point roads are open to the various mining districts. The capital stock of the company is ten thousand dollars, divided into forty shares of two hundred fifty dollars each. Tolls are to be collected on each fifty miles of the trail, as soon as completed, at the following rates:

For each animal packed	75c
For each man and horse	75c
For each loose animal	37½c
For each head of sheep and swine	12½c

The enterprise of Lewiston is commendable, but the object aimed at will be difficult to accomplish. It would be hard to find a more mountainous region than that over which this trail is to be laid.

The people of Vancouver are taking steps to purchase a suitable tract of land near that town for a public cemetery.

[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

DATES TO FEBRUARY 15.

Congressional.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—Gen. Robert E. Lee arrived to-day at the hotel. The Lexington, Virginia, Gazette says he has been summoned to appear before the reconstruction committee.

The sub-committee of the reconstruction committee, charged with with the inquiry into Tennessee matters, have finished their labors and communicated with main committee. The sub-committee examined many persons of the highest character and standing, including Gen. Thomas and Fisk, all of whom express the opinion that formal reconstruction would greatly strengthen the loyal sentiment in Tennessee, and for this reason concludes to submit the main committee their report on the bill admitting Tennessee in the Union. The bill is very like that usually framed for the admission of States. The sub-committee rest their recommendation on the ground that that the rebellion has so thoroughly disturbed the relations of the seceded States in the Union as to require Congressional action for their restoration, and by the bill submitted they mean distinctly to assert and exercise the right of Congress to prescribe the mode of reconstruction.

The members elect from Tennessee in their petition for recognition, presented to the Senate by Mr. Grimes day before yesterday, unmistakably acknowledged that they deem the formal readmission by Congress, necessary and they are willing to accept the mode proposed by the sub-committee, thereby concurring with Congress and acting contrary to the President's views. Nearly all the members, in the main, are in favor of the admission of the Tennessee members in the manner prescribed by the committee. It is expected reports to that effect will be made to the Senate and House on Tuesday next.

WASHINGTON Feb. 17.—There is ground for asserting that the evidence taken before the sub-committee concerning the condition of affairs in rebel States is such as to preclude the admission of any of them in the same way as Tennessee during the present session.

The bill introduced by Senator Morrill of Maine, placing the government of the District of Columbia in the hands of Congress, is now before the Senate District Committee, and will be favorably reported on. Under the present system it cost, last year nearly a million and a quarter dollars, of which amount Congress appropriated half a million to govern the District. There are now five different jurisdictions, beginning with Congress and ending in a nondescript piece of machinery called a law-court, and between these departments and contending jurisdictions, nothing is done properly.

A report was made to-day, by Mr. Blaine, of Maine from the select committee on the debts due the loyal State by the Federal Government including data upon the subject, from all States except California, Oregon and Nevada.

The sum total of the debts as ascertained, is $467,064,864. The committee recommend re-imbursements in part on the basis furnished by each State.

Fifteen additional Paymasters were mustered out of the service to-day. An extensive coalition of ex-Paymasters is said to exist, the design of which is to work through Congress some kind of a bill giving them rewards for the faithful performance of their duties during the war. It is asked for especially as a reward for honesty in the departments for the immense amount of money paid out, and the request does not appear so cool when the clear balance sheets of the department are shown in support of it. They ask one-quarter of one per cent. on all the moneys disbursed in the field as suggested.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—In the House, Blaine of Maine, from the select committee on the subject, reported a bill to reimburse the loyal States for war expenses not heretofore assumed by the General Government. Washburne of Illinois made a report from the joint committee on the memorial in memory of Lincoln and a resolution that 20,000 copies of the eulogy be printed was passed. The House proceeded to the consideration of the Pennsylvania contested election cases of Koontz and Coffroth.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—The House committee on claims has rejected the Utah claim. The House to-day rejected the proposition to purchase 1,000 copies of the tribute book containing sermons and speeches on Lincoln's death, being coupled with a report from the committee to the effect that the price should be deducted from the pay of members of the Senate. Trumbull of Illinois introduced a joint resolution expressing thanks to the rescuers of the soldiers and officers from the wreck of the steamer San Francisco. The bill allowing appeals from the Court of Claims to the Supreme Court, passed. Hendricks of Indiana proceeded to address the Senate against the Constitutional Amendment.

Robbery in St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 17.—A messenger of the United States Express Company, while delivering packages in the upper part of a building on third street, about ten o'clock this morning, was robbed of forty thousand dollars and nearly all the contents of his satchel. From the fact that the package which the messenger went to deliver, and which was left by the robbers, contained counterfeit money, and from other suspicious circumstances, it is evident that the robbery was previously planned.

Washington News.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—Henry Rives and Pollard, of the Richmond Examiner, having in vain invited the intervention of Government suppressing their paper, yesterday visited Gen. Grant, who, after listening patiently to Pollard's representations, quietly informed him he would receive any written communication addressed to him from Richmond. The suppression of the Examiner was done in pursuance of positive orders from General Grant, who announces his intention of suppressing all newspapers which come out in similar bold insinuations against the Government.

Gen. Robert E. Lee was before the reconstruction committee two hours to-day, and upon leaving the capitol walked to the Metropolitan Hotel, followed by a curious crowd which increased to a large assemblage by the time he reached his quarters.

Reconstruction in Congress.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—The House to-day was devoted to speeches by Cook, Lawrence, Cullum, and others, all to the effect that the seceded States are out of the Union and Congress has the only power to reconstruct them.

Twenty-three Senators are counted upon to vote against the constitutional amendment fixing the basis of representation.

Money from the Rebel States.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—The Treasury Department in response to the resolution of the House making inquiries as to the amount of money received in the Treasury since the close of the war from the rebel States, has prepared a statement showing the amount to be upwards of $279,555,000. The greatest portion of this sum was realized from the sale of captured and abandoned property.

General News.

NEW YORK, Feb. 17.—The perils were never greater in the East and North river, (to navigation) on account of the immense quantities of floating ice. The Bremen ship Energia, with a valuable cargo, lying at the foot of Dock street, was struck last evening by a heavy flow of ice and sunk. The loss is very heavy. The insurance on the vessel was $15,000.

Robert Martin, the alleged hotel incendiary, was discharged to-day by Judge Stephens, of the U. S. District Court.

NEW YORK, Feb. 17.—The news by the steamer of the threatened panic in London, excites interest here. Government securities are still in active demand and generally higher. Loans 6 per cent. discount but some names 7 to 8½. Brokers' paper is freely offered at 1½ per cent. a month, with few buyers.

The New Orleans mail brings a good supply of cotton bills.

Pacific mail scrip $1 70; Atlantic mail scrip $1 02; Mariposa 12½ quick; Silver Mining Company 41; Panama Railroad 242. Sales $150,000 California State sevens at $1 10.

Cleared 17th.—Ship Horatio Harris from Boston for San Francisco.

Miscellaneous.

CHICAGO, Feb. 16.—The general impression at Washington among the newspaper press that the President will veto the Freedmen's Bureau bill, and the probable character of the veto causes much speculation.

The Tribune says: To thwart the efforts now being made to develop the Union party at the South every possible influence is being brought to bear upon the President to secure a veto, when recent Republicans and Copperheads can find a pretext to fuse into a national party and secure power at the coming elections.

The commissioner of the land office has received a map showing the survey of the boundary line between Oregon and Washington Territory, from the Columbia to Snake river, a distance of ninety-seven miles of the forty-sixth parallel, recently completed under the supervision of Dan'l G. Major.

Advices from Santa Fe say the Territorial Legislature had adjourned after having repealed the odious free negro law and amended the peon law by making servitude only voluntary. A convention was also ordered to frame a State constitution. An election for delegates will be held the first Monday in March. The constitution is to be submitted on last Monday in April, so that application may be made before the adjournment of Congress.

Foreign News.

NEW YORK, Feb. 17. The steamer City of London has arrived with dates to the first, but her news has been mostly anticipated.

In London, on the first, consols closed at 86 and 86¾ for money. U. S. five-twenties, 66½ and 67¾.

It is officially announced from Vienna, that the negotiations for the formation of a new corps of Austrian volunteers for Mexico, will shortly be brought to a conclusion.

The reported appearance of Chilean privateers off the Spanish coast, excites attention. No ravages are as yet reported.

The steam ram retained in the Thames, was found to be built for the Peruvian Government, and was allowed to depart on the 27th. Another steam ram, built by Laird, for Peru, recently left Liverpool and was at Brest, where, the Patrie says, she will be detained until the Spanish difficulty is adjusted. Rumor connects these two vessels with designs against Spain. It is reported that Spain has a dozen ships building in England, and is hurrying their completion.

In England it is rumored that Parliament will be asked to suspend the writ of habeas corpus in Ireland, to give the Government power to deal with the Fenian conspirators.

Great depression continues in the money market with a tendency to a panic in the funds.

The latest English journals says Sir John Lawrence had sent three native agents disguised to explore Central Asia by different routes, and observe whether the movements among the people are in favor of Russia.

California News.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 17.—The bark Francis, from Puget Sound, with lumber and piles was abandoned at sea on the 8th inst.

Thursday afternoon another line of steamers between this city and Portland is to be inaugurated, comprising three new and first class propellers, viz: the Montana, 1031 tons, the Idaho, 1010 tons to arrive, and a new vessel not yet off the stocks. The principal owners of this line are the Messrs. Patten, of Bath, Me., the builders, and the agency is to be held by Messrs. Aldrich, Morrill & Co. The Montana will probably leave on her first trip to Portland on the 24th of this month. The Idaho is expected to arrive here in about four months, to be followed by three ships some time next autumn.

Currency drafts on New York are lower 32 per cent. premium. Gold coin drafts remain unchanged.

Private dispatches from New York dated yesterday, quote a decline in gold to 137@137¼, and report sterling at 107¾ for bankers' bills.

Legal advanced to 73¼@73½.

The Markets.

Considerable transactions have taken place in the stock market at the following quotations: Savage, per foot, $970; Belcher, $210; Gould and Curry, $1,055; Yellow Jacket, $450; Ophir, $140; Hall and Norcross, $910; Crown Point, $900; Alpha, per share $260; Imperial, $117; Empire mill, M. & Co., $150. Butter—on account of prospective light shipments from New York, market for Isthmus is decidedly better with more disposition to purchase. Sales include 3500 firkins New York State and 250 do. western, 35@42c, latter price cash for choice. Candles, a lot of 300. boxes, leading brand, adamantine to arrive. Coffee.—Costa Rica is scarcely so firm under prospective increased receipts, quotable at 24½c. The invoice by the Speedwell, before reported, brought 23c. Oil.—Sales 200 cases Olive Oil, passed on private terms; 150 gals Cocoanut at reserved prices. 25 bbls mess pork, ex-Grace Darling, sold private. Round lots are worth about $36; clear, $38. Flour market dull and prices favor the purchaser. We quote superfine half sacks per bbl. $6 50; quarter sacks $6 70; extra, half sacks, $1 75; in quarter sacks, $7@7 25. Wheat—nothing transpiring of moment in the way of sales. We quote nominally at $2 12@2 25 per 100 lbs for No. 2 to strictly prime. Oats nominally $2 05@2 10 per 100 lbs. in round lots. Barley is quiet, and nominally $1 05@1 12½ per 100 lbs. for feed to brewing. Potatoes—sales at $1@1 12½ per 100 lbs. for ordinary to good.

Arrived last night, steamer Pacific, from Oregon. Ship Caroline 139 days from London. Sailed on the 10th, ship J. L. Dunnock, for Puget Sound. Ship Revere and bark Rainier for Puget Sound.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 18.—Walsh, of the San Francisco Varieties, who was indicted for libel on Thursday morning and divorced from his wife Thursday afternoon, was married by special dispensation at the Palace of Archbishop Alemany to a Mrs. Ford yesterday.

The Golden City will carry away about five hundred passengers to-morrow.

The police arrested the steward of the Oregon on suspicion of being connected with the alleged robbery of Collector Adams, of Oregon, but as yet no evidence whatever has been elicited to implicate anybody nor any trace of the money discovered.

D. Solomons, for years an employee of Hughes & Co., importers, and more recently of Godchaux & Co., was arrested this morning on several charges of obtaining goods through confidence operations. Weather pleasant.

SOUTHERN HATRED OF THE NORTHERN PEOPLE.—Gen. Schurz in his late report, speaks on this subject:

I have read in the Southern papers bitter complaints about the unfriendly spirit exhibited by the northern people, complaints not unfrequently flavored with an admixture of vigorous vituperation. But as far as my experience goes, the unfriendly spirit exhibited in the North is all mildness and affection compared with the popular temper which in the South vents itself in a variety of ways and on all possible occasions. No observing Northern man can come into contact with the different classes composing Southern society without noticing it. He may be received in social circles with great politeness, even with apparent cordiality, but soon he will become aware that, although he may be esteemed as a man, he is detested as a Yankee, and, as the conversation becomes a little more confidential and throws off ordinary restraint, he is not unfrequently told so. The word Yankee still signifies to them those traits of character which the Southern press has been so long in the habit of attributing to the Northern people, and whenever they look around them upon the traces of the war, they see in them not the consequences of their own folly, but the evidences of "Yankee wickedness." In making this general statement I beg to be understood as always excluding individual exceptions.

LIFE COMPARED TO A CLOCK.—Our brains are seventy-year clocks. The angel of life winds them up at once for all, then closes the cases and gives the key into the hand of the angel of resurrection. Tic-tac! tic-tac! go the wheels of thought; our will cannot stop them; madness only makes them go faster, death alone can break into the case, and seizing the ever-swinging pendulum which we call the heart, silence at last the clicking of the terrible escapement we have carried so long beneath our aching foreheads. If we could only get at them as we lie on our pillows and count the dead beats of thought after thought, and image after image, jarring through the over-tired organ! Will nobody block those wheels, uncouple their pinions, cut the string which holds those weights? What a passion comes over us sometimes for silence and rest, that this dreadful mechanism, unwinding the endless tapestry of time, embroidered with spectral figures of life and death, would have but one brief holiday.—O. W. Holmes.

The speech of Mr. Raymond, of New York, on the reconstruction question, which is now published in the conservative papers, is not the speech delivered by him, but an emasculated abstract of it, in which all the telling points made against him by the Republican members who plied him during its delivery with scorching questions, are left out. The speech, as delivered, was a complete break down, Mr. Raymond being forced, by his interrogators, to abandon the ground upon which he set out in it, and to concede the radical ground of his interlocutors. Those who were present at its delivery assure us that, as an argument, it was a complete failure; and that he found it impossible to meet the logic of the questions put to him by his political colleagues.—Pittsburg Gazette.

The Vancouver Register advises the purchase of the Hardy toll road, which leads from Cape Horn mountain to the Upper Cascades. The object is to improve the road so that it will be of use in forming a part of the proposed new wagon road from the Cascades to Vancouver.

According to the muster rolls Alabama sent into the Confederate States army one hundred and twenty-eight thousand men. Of these, thirty-four thousand have been killed and died from the effects of wounds or perished of disease. Alabama furnished twenty-four general officers, five of whom were killed in action.

CUPID'S PROCLAMATION!

To every Lover in the land,
To Maids of every station,
That all may understand,
I send this Proclamation!

By virtue of my high estate
I herald forth the season,
When every Lover seeks his Mate
And every rhyme has reason.

Haste forth, ye Lovers, every one—
Bachelors, Maids, and Loving Daughters—
To MAC'S, on Front street, each one run,
Where I've established my Head-Quarters!

You'll find VALENTINES that will bring delight
To every Maiden, pretty,
Whilst others serve to give affright
To saucy Sal or bouncing Betty!

There's VALENTINES for laughter, too,
For fat, for lean, for short, for tall
For the "Bully-boy"—the hop-de-do-den-doo,
Or, the Lady who lost her "water-fall!"

To McCORMICK'S, then, let each one flock,
Ere all his Love-drops he disposes,
Adonis waits to show the stock,
You'll find him—"Love among the Roses!"

NEW INVENTION. — Mr [illegible] Penitentiary on this [illegible] for shackling prisoners [illegible] East for a patent [illegible] and support [illegible] the prisoner [illegible] straps support a ring [illegible] ankle large enough to [illegible] and the pulling on or off of the shoe [illegible] rests when at labor [illegible] shackle to be made of iron or steel [illegible] to the leather weight [illegible] This shackle rests entirely upon the ring or support attached to the shoe [illegible] the prisoner when standing, sitting or working, but while walking the [illegible] left is upon the [illegible] and in case of attempt to run [illegible] it will be impossible for the prisoner to progress very rapidly. It dispenses entirely with the ball and chain and having tried it for some time in the workshops of the Penitentiary here Mr Gardner is satisfied that men will do a great deal more work with it [illegible] than any other system of precaution used to prevent escape. The shackle and supporter work together in ease without injury to the prisoner, and [illegible] but [illegible] will require more exertion than the wearer is apt to calculate upon, and is likely to come him to abandon the project before it is accomplished. In case he attempts to run, and by any means [illegible] the ground [illegible] he had better sit down at once [illegible] for him to carry the raw material about his leg without the use of the support. This invention will work a revolution in shackles and entirely do away with the ball and chain. It is simple and cheap and at once recommends itself to use by jail wardens and [illegible] keepers of prisoners, and commanders of military posts. W[illegible] who was recently captured at Idaho City for the murder of the Sheriff at Sacramento [illegible] from California, would have [illegible] attempting such a thing had he been wearing [illegible] a jail awaiting his trial. [illegible] would take a different [illegible] one of these improved shackles [illegible] the hope he has of escape. The number of the [illegible] which the [illegible] could have been prevented [illegible] this new invention. We hope to see it in use all over the country, and believe there is not a county in the United States but will adopt it.

HANDSOME PRESENT. — On Saturday evening last Chief [illegible] Mr T. G. Young was presented with a magnificent fire hat and belt at the house of Engine Company No 3, as a testimonial of the respect that company hold for him, their late Foreman and brother member. The presentation speech was made by Mr Hamilton Boyd who really did himself, the company and the occasion justice by the allusion to the past and present condition of No. 3. Mr Young was a very efficient member and has done much to bring the company up to its present standing, and is certainly deserving of the testimonial presented him. His reply to Mr Boyd was brief but he spoke [illegible] and spoke the sentiments of a brother fireman. The Foremen of the various companies were present. Mr. Mallock made a few remarks as well as Messrs. Wood and Patterson, assistants of the Chief Engineer and others present. While it is [illegible] that the [illegible] of Portland are lacking in spirit the same cannot be said with regard to the Portland Fire Department, for we very much [illegible] whether there is a city in the United States that has an energetic or efficient firemen. They have been repeatedly tried and while some are disposed to find fault, let all consider how very much property has been saved by the Department through the efforts to annihilate the fiery element and thwart danger. Don't be too sure that a building made of Oregon lumber won't burn, for if it were not for the promptness of the firemen that [illegible] would have long since been exploded. The hat and belt presented to Mr Young was got up in San F[illegible], and is really as fine as any we have ever seen. The belt and hat were both appropriately inscribed.

DEATH OF DR. H. H. BLACK. — Dr H. H. Black, who has been lingering for some years [illegible] consumption, expired on [illegible] day morning last at 7 o'clock, at the residence of E. B. Thompson Esq. His remains were consigned to the grave yesterday, the services being under charge of the Masonic Order, of which Dr. B. was a worthy member. The exercises were very appropriate and impressive, and a large procession followed the remains to the grave. Dr. Black, when in the enjoyment of health was one of our most active citizens. His profession that of Dental Surgeon, was well understood by him and a [illegible] on the proper management of the Teeth, with full instructions regarding their preservation to extreme age without the aid of a dentist written and published by Dr. Black, was considered as a most valuable work. The matter contained in the treatise was selected from manuscript which had been prepared for a work to be entitled Black's American Dentist.

WILLAMETTE THEATER. — The interest for the performance at the old Theater appeared to increase quite gradually on Saturday evening, as there was a very fair house. The old shell is a dingy place, better adapted to the [illegible] of a second class barn than that of first class acting. The managers, however, still undaunted have [illegible] to continue their grapple with hard times, for to-night they bring out decidedly a fine bill. The grand [illegible] founded on an episode in the Indian Rebellion, called "Jessie Brown, or the Relief of Lucknow," will be [illegible] this evening, Mrs Phelps sustaining the [illegible] of Jessie Brown. Mr. Phelps as Randall [illegible], Mr. Ward the Rev David Blunt and the full force of the company, aided by numerous auxiliaries, Johnny Mason will dance the celebrated "Clog Hornpipe," and the entertainment will close with the comedy of "Two can play at That."

CIRCUIT COURT. — R. D. SHATTUCK, J., February 10th and 12th. — The time of the court is principally engaged in civil actions, and but a small portion of the business as far as could be of general interest to the public. The case of H. & I. Rosenfeld vs. E. Edwards was continued until the next term. Case of D Simon & Co. vs. Bleshein [illegible] dismissed at plaintiff's cost. Nelson vs. Tice, [illegible] for $00 in favor of plaintiff. City of Portland vs. J. H. [illegible], defendant acquitted. Alexander Steifel vs. [illegible] Bachman, submitted on proofs. Four indictments were [illegible] by the Grand Jury on Saturday, and the jury were discharged. Court convenes this forenoon at 9 o'clock.

LADIES' FAIR. — The Vancouver Register says the Fair given by the ladies of the Episcopal Church at that place on [illegible] day and Tuesday evenings of last week was a success. The articles on sale were quite numerous, and were displayed with admirably good taste. The hall was well filled on each evening, and all seemed to enjoy themselves finely, while the results were quite satisfactory to the fair managers. The splendid music furnished by the 14th Infantry band added much to the interest of the [illegible]. We understand that the gross receipts were $423.

[illegible]. — The brickyard of Messrs Goodnough & Clarke, on McAd[illegible] road, we observed on Saturday is being very [illegible] enlarged. Last year the want of material retarded the building interests of this city greatly. We are informed that Messrs G. & C. will be able in a manner to prevent a recurrence of this want — they will make 21,000 brick per day when they begin operations in the spring. They established this yard last year for the purpose of getting brick for their own use, now they propose furnishing to others.

REV. DR. WYTHE. — Two large audiences of our people listened with a great deal of interest to Rev. Dr. Wythe yesterday. His subject last evening at the Presbyterian Church was based upon a portion of the Scripture according to St. Luke, relating to the miracles of Christ. The style of Dr. W. is at once attractive and impressive, and the effect of his words are readily appreciated. Oregon is indeed favored to have so eminent a person as him to preside over one of her best institutions of learning. We hope we shall frequently have the opportunity of listening to him.

THE MCADAMIZED ROAD. — The Portland McAdamized road is now in most excellent shape. The company have been to considerable expense the past season and especially during the winter, to keep the road in order and how well they have succeeded one learns by taking a ride to the White House. The present season many improvements are in contemplation; the timber on the river side is all to be cut away, and low grades repaired.

PERSONAL. — Rev. J. F. Damon, who filled the pulpit of the Co[illegible] Church in this city during the absence of Rev. Dr. Atkinson, goes to-day to Albany to take charge of a flourishing congregation in that pleasant town. The people of Albany will find in Mr. Damon an earnest and active worker in the cause in which he is engaged and a very genial citizen.

HOME MADE. — At the solicitation of Dr. Black on Saturday we took a ride to the White House in a new Portland made buggy, manufactured for him by W. F. [illegible] & Co. The ease, and the fineness of the [illegible] is proof enough that carriages for traveling [illegible] should be made in Oregon. There are really no better vehicles imported from the East than those made here.

WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY. — On Thursday evening of this week the Washington Guards, Company B, Oregon Volunteer Militia, give their second annual ball in this city at the Lincoln House. Should the weather be [illegible] the day will be [illegible]. We hope the good weather may continue.

U. S. CIRCUIT COURT. — M. P. DEADY, J. — An adjourned term of the United States Circuit Court, M. P. Deady [illegible] will meet in this city to-day. The most prominent cases for trial will be that of [illegible] School District No. 1, [illegible] Block and the City of Portland and the case of [illegible].

ARRIVED. — The steamer [illegible], Capt. [illegible], arrived last evening from Astoria, bringing in tow the bark Helen W. Almy, twenty eight days from San Francisco, with a full cargo of merchandise to McCraken, Merrill & Co. and various other consignees.

THE WEATHER. — A friend urges us to write something about the weather. The subject is really a tempting one but we fear to touch it, as there is a fate attending all things. Enjoy the fine weather while it lasts, but don't be too fast to calculate it.

THE COLUMBIA RIVER. — The steamer John H. Couch from Astoria yesterday reports the ice moving in the Columbia river in considerable quantities. The [illegible] will attempt to make a trip to-day, leaving at the usual hour this morning.

RECORDER'S COURT. — HOFFMAN J., February 12th 1866. — Charles Prior, one of the regular visitants, fined for drunkenness. Fine and costs paid and defendant discharged.

DEATH OF CAPT. COLLINS. — Capt. Jerry Collins, former Ship Master between this port and San Francisco, the Astoria Gazette learns, died in San Francisco on the 8th of February last.

TO THE POINT. — A call for a meeting of the Stock and Exchange Board for to-morrow appears in another column. It closes as follows: "A full attendance is [illegible], as it is proposed to close out the concern."

General Summary

The Vancouver Register of Saturday contains the following:

We are forcibly reminded almost every day of our lack of houses. A gentleman just inquired if we knew of a house to rent. We could only answer that in our opinion there was not a vacant house in town. [illegible] It has heretofore been the case that our houses were [illegible] during the winter but left tenantless on the approach of spring. But that day is over. Our houses will all be full during the coming spring and summer, and fifty more would soon be occupied if we had them. We are confident that those having a little spare money could not use it more advantageously than in the building of [illegible] houses to rent. We hope ere long to see some of our citizens take the lead in this matter and thus do well for themselves and set a good example for others.

We again feel called upon to notice the notorious fact that some persons, supposed to be soldiers are in the habit of stealing and butchering cattle. Mr Detrich has lately lost a fine steer worth $40 some of the remains of which were found under such circumstances as to confirm the opinion heretofore generally entertained as to the guilt of the class of persons above named. We have heard of at least one other similar case lately. In fact it has come to such a pass, that a citizen who turns his cow out in the morning if she is fine and fat must do it with anything but pleasant doubts of her return especially if she ranges anywhere in the neighborhood of the garrison and some begin to feel that they will be forced to quit keeping cattle if some measure cannot be adopted for their protection.

The Walla Walla Statesman of the 2d instant publishes the subjoined:

In our issue of last week we noticed the arrest of a man named Michael H. Lewis charged with the crime of murder. From Mayor M. P. Berry, Sheriff of Grant county, we learn that the murder was accompanied by circumstances of peculiar atrocity. The deceased had befriended Lewis in various ways, and in fact had placed him in a position where he was making money rapidly, having given him a half interest in a valuable mining claim. On a slight provocation Lewis threatened to kill his benefactor, but even this was regarded as an idle boast. True to his word however, Lewis laid in wait for his victim, and as he came out of the "drift" wheel barrow in hand, he waylaid him and shot him down like a dog. The bloody deed accomplished he then coolly arranged to make way with the evidences of his guilt. The body was taken into the "drift" and there buried, the ground being carefully smoothed over so as to remove all indications of the presence of a body. Even when found it was supposed that Pettie had come to his death by an accidental cave in the mine, and it was only when the body was brought out to open day that it was discovered that it had been shot through and through. Search was immediately made for the murderer, but he had succeeded in making his escape. Like all villains however, he finally set the trap that led to the discovery of his whereabouts. Early in December last he wrote a letter to an acquaintance living in Grant county, in which he disclosed the fact that he was at Walla Walla, where he passed under an assumed name. Armed with this letter, Sheriff Berry visited our town, and after a search of little more than a week, he succeeded in capturing his prisoner. Since his arrest Lewis has maintained an air of indifference, buoyed up with the hope that in some way he will make his escape. He even says that it was his intention to have gone back to Canyon City in the spring and give himself up for trial, his only reason for making his escape being his unwillingness to pass the winter in jail. We learn that great excitement prevails in Grant county in relation to the murder, and that on his return it is feared that an attempt will be made to execute summary justice. In view of the fact that the people of Oregon have an excellent judiciary in full operation, it would seem that there can be no justification for the people taking the law in their own hands. Sheriff Berry will take all proper precaution for the safety of his prisoner, and should the attempt be made it is scarcely possible that the populace will succeed in getting him out of the Sheriff's hands.

Mr D. V. Waldron, the Blackfoot expressman, arrived on Tuesday last, having been six weeks on the way. He reports the winter in the mountains as the severest of any in his experience, and gives the details of much suffering from frozen hands and feet. At Helena the thermometer had been down to 38° below zero. None of the trains that had started by way of the Pen d'Oreille Lake had been heard from when he left, with the exception of Jones & Dalton's, and the chances are that many of them have been lost. There was a report of a train being lost near Jocko — name not known. Mr John Fesca had arrived at Frenchtown; he had lost a number of his animals, but got his cargo safely through at that place. Mr McConnell had come into town to get provisions for his men who were back on the trail, these men were subsequently met by our informant, their feet and hands were badly frozen, and they had been out of provisions for ten days. The snow on the Coeur d'Alene mountains was very deep, averaging possibly, ten feet — soft and bad to travel through. Mr W. was fourteen days between Bitter Root and the Mission, and traveled the whole distance on snow-shoes. Helena was crowded, it being estimated that five thousand people were wintering in the town. The latest excitement was a rich discovery on Elk Creek. But little was being done in the way of mining, the weather being too cold to admit of working to advantage. Mr W. brought over two hundred letters, and would have made better time had it not been for detention near the crossing of Snake River. He will start again in about two weeks with a letter and newspaper express for Helena and adjoining towns.

Now that spring will soon be upon us, we have to repeat a suggestion made some time since, that our farmers prepare themselves to supply the Portland market with early vegetables. Our season is from five to six weeks earlier than that of the Willamette, and for this space of time we can make our Portland friends dependent upon us for their supplies of early vegetables. Hitherto they have mainly depended upon California for their supplies of this description, but the irregularity of the steamers, and the length of the sea voyage it has been rare indeed that the shipments reached there in good condition. In this regard the farmers of Walla Walla Valley have greatly the advantage, and one they should not fail to improve. With a view of developing the resources of the country, the O. S. N. Company will arrange to take vegetables shipped for the lower country at the more cost of handling — $7 per ton. At this figure it will pay to ship early vegetables to the Portland market, and it will speak little for the enterprise of our producing classes if they fail to avail themselves of the opportunity.

From Boise City correspondence of the Walla Walla Statesman we obtain the following items:

I give you news second hand, by parties to-day from Rocky Bar, on Bear Creek. Waddingham's mill is running, (10 stamps) crushing Confederate Star rock, and doing a "big business." The Idaho Company's mill, on the ledge of the same name (10 stamps) average $800 to $1 000 per day. The old Cartee & Co's mill, now belonging to the Pittsburg Gold and Silver Mining Company, is also doing well — all on Bear Creek, and the Benson, Harris & Co's mill, (10 stamps) in Red Warrior, on Wide West rock, is paying handsomely. The Victor Co's mill is at rest for want of dies.

There is not nearly so much snow at the Bar as there was last year, but times are reported as rather dull.

The Legislature has granted a charter for a road from Big Camas Prairie to the Yuba, to S. B. Dilley, C. H. Stewart, H. W. O. Margary and W. S. Stocking, as a corporation, to be styled the Big Camas and Yuba Wagon Road Co. Yuba will be a great camp. The ledges are from six to twenty feet wide and rich beyond credibility. The Wallamette, Great Mogul, Pacific, Golden Wreath, Mineral, Cleopatra and Silver Tide, are clear lodes that I can speak knowingly of. The Atlanta is a fine lead but terribly mixed up, and will cost many thousands of dollars in legal fees before it is settled.

This (Boise City) is bound to make a place. It is a beautiful valley easily irrigated and about thirty miles long. At Rocky Bar, Owyhee and Idaho but little produce can be raised and as these are all growing places it is impossible to overstock the market. Small fruits and grapes do well here; also apples and pears, but peaches and the more tender fruits blossom too before the full age is matured, are apt to be cut off by late frosts.

The Legislature granted a charter for a telegraph and another for a railway from the head of navigation on the Columbia. The distance is about 300 miles and as Holladay & Halsey, Ladd and other moneyed men are in it, it may in time be put through. The telegraph in contemplation is so far gone as that contracts are offered for poles between this and Ruby City, Owyhee to connect it is intended, with a wire to Silver City.

FRANCHISES IN IDAHO. — Franchises of every color and description were rapidly rushed through the late Legislature, and Gov. Lyon of Lyonsdale as rapidly signed them all. Every known mountain trail made and opened by the hardy pioneer will now have some licensed member of the "faithful" to demand toll of him for every mule, jackass, or other animal. — Idaho Statesman

Limestone is said to have been found at Colville, at Lewiston and on the Touchet river.

UTAH ITEMS. — Brigham Young's message to the General Assembly appears in the Telegraph of January 23d. He complains of the refusal of Congress to allow Utah into the Union, and says:

If then we are citizens of the Government and have the requisite strength and ability for a State why should we not be admitted into the Union? If we are citizens, why pursue the unconstitutional course of taxation without representation?

But we can wait. We can pursue the even tenor of our way. However much we may feel to regret such treatment at the hands of the Government, still claiming our rights, and hoping Congress will soon lend a more favorable ear to our wishes we will continue the course we have pursued.

Brigham is justly jubilant over the prospects of the construction of the Pacific Railroad and predicts great results to Utah and the "rest of mankind."

I am also happy to inform you that the construction of the Pacific Railroad is in favorable progress and the indications are that during the present year the iron horse will approach several hundred miles nearer our isolated position in the tops of the mountains. We wish it good speed and success, and expect that when the route for the road through this State shall be finally determined upon, you with your constituents will lend your material aid and energies to the more speedy accomplishment of that great national work.

We are informed that ten Indians made their appearance on Catharine creek, recently, where Isaac Jennings is wintering his stock, and told him that they would make peace if the whites would agree to give them all the food and clothing they wanted, and would also return a portion of the stock stolen last summer, but if the settlers refused, they would drive off everything they found. Mr Jennings promised them to see the Governor immediately and have some arrangements made. Now if some Christian gentleman will consent to furnish a few bales of blankets from some small pox hospital well innoculated [illegible] or elsewhere, we will act as distributing agent, and will see to it that not an Indian is without a blanket. This kind of peace would probably prove more lasting than all the regular treaties that could be made. — Owyhee Avalanche

Money Order Office, P. O. Department. This Office has been designated as a MONEY ORDER OFFICE, and is now prepared to furnish Orders from one to thirty dollars on any Money Order Office in the United States.

E. G. RANDALL, P. M.

Portland, Oregon, Feb. 12, 1866.

The specific object of the Money Order system is to afford facilities for the safe transfer through the mails of small sums of money, so as to prevent as far as possible the loss of money letters, which contain generally but small sums. For this reason the maximum amount of a money order is limited by law to thirty dollars. Hence it is not intended that this system shall assume the functions and interfere with the business of Banks and of Bankers by furnishing exchange for large sums of money. The mode by which safety is secured consists in leaving out of the order the name of the payee or party for whom the money is intended. In this respect the money order differs from an ordinary bank check.

An advice or notification containing full particulars of the order is transmitted by the issuing Postmaster to the Postmaster at the office of payment. The latter is thus furnished, before the order itself can be presented, with the necessary information to detect fraud, if any should be attempted — thus insuring the transfer of small sums of money without danger of loss.

See that our bottle is not refilled with spurious and deleterious stuff. Any person pretending to sell Plantation Bitters by the gallon or in bulk is an impostor. Any person imitating this bottle, or selling any other material therein, whether called Plantation Bitters or not, is a criminal under the U. S. Law, and will be so prosecuted by us. The Spirit of the South.

We collate from Southern journals a variety of articles which illustrate the peculiar phases of "Southern loyalty." Concession and conciliation seem to have had little effect, as yet, on the sulky spirit of the rebellion. The first article we present is from the Richmond Examiner, a paper which has since been suppressed by order of the President:

There is a hopeful future for the South, but it is not to be found in the counsels of those time servers and submissionists who are for yielding unconditional obedience to every behest of a political party in power, and are anxious that those in authority may spit upon them that they may give evidence of their docility. The South has nothing of good to expect from its timid and mercenary press. It has nothing good to expect from its mis-representatives in Congress, who claim as a decisive qualification, and a peculiar merit that they can swear that in a war which invaded the homes of the South they were the heartless creatures that stood mute and neutral in face of the grand tragedy that ran with blood and tears, without aid, comfort or countenance to their countrymen dying before their eyes, reaching their hands for bread.

Counsels obtained from such sources are not what the South needs, or what she should accept. She should take a new lesson of courage and self respect. She should reassert some of her former spirit. She should rest her hopes in some brave organization of public opinion, resolved to concede nothing to the North but what was decided in the issue of the war; determined to resist encroachment upon her Constitution rights; prompt to claim her benefit of the Constitution as of old, and steadily and even defiantly, asserting the ancient landmarks in the Union. Such a party may restore the fallen fortunes of the South; it will at least erect again the selfrespect and pride—those high standards of personal character—which formerly distinguished this part of the Union. Nothing is to be gained by the people of the South regarding themselves as ticket of leave men or any other kind of probationary vagabonds; such behavior invites insult and oppression.

ONLY OVERWHELMED.—The Southern people have nothing to be ashamed of in their struggle, and nothing to be sorry for but that their sacrifices were made in vain. Even the true hearted Unionists of the South glory in the prowess, endurance, and the dash of their people, their energy and action, their fertility in resources, their moderation in triumph, and their fortitude in defeat. They exult in the deathless fame they have acquired, the lofty qualities they have displayed, and the immortal names they have added to the world's roll of fame. They reverence the hallowed spots

> "Where the veteran drooped beside the spring,
> Where sank strength and symmetry of line."

They sympathise with the victors of Chancellorsville; and they stand where stood the few and fearless followers of Lee and Johnston when they surrendered, and realize with a sense of sympathy that is painful in its genuineness, "how patriots fell when all but life and honor's lost." Ten thousand times better are such men than those men who fought throughout the war, and at its close fall in with the victors and cry peccavi.—Augusta Constitutional.

IN THIS WE GLORY.—At a public festival in Alabama last week, says the Intelligencer of that place:

The "Conquered Banner," by the talented Miss C., was feelingly recited, and brought down the house in rounds of applause.

This is a poem glorying in the war for the rebellion, and exalting its heroes.

THE REAL FEELING.—Hon. John Forsyth, of Alabama, says there must be a limit to the demands of the North upon the South. Gen. Philips Cook, of Ga., a candidate for Congress, would like to have "every man in the Yankee army in a fort, and that fort mined," and he "would touch it off and send them all to glory." "Governor" Humphreys, of Miss., styles the Freedmen's Bureau "a black incubus, a hideous curse allowed to rule and ruin our unhappy people," and asserts that the negroes have been "emancipated under the pressure of Federal bayonets, urged on by the misdirected sympathies of the world."

The Brandon, Miss., Republican "thanks God that the city is no longer cursed with the presence of the unbleached Yankee guard." The Charleston News sizes up a long article on the action of Congress in this wise: "We pray that no more will be demanded, lest that be required which honor cannot yield to policy; and that our rights will be no longer withheld, lest the spirit of conciliation give place to a conviction that its exercise is useless."

The Mobile Times styles Henry Ward Beecher, who is endeavoring to conciliate the South, "a sacrilegious preacher," and the New York Independent his "obscene and immoral organ." The Richmond Times in alluding to Thanksgiving Day, says:

"The bloodhounds of Zion bayed loud and fiercely from their lofty pulpits on Thanksgiving Day. It was a national Sabbath, set apart for prayers to God for the return of peace to a land ruinated, scarred and torn by civil war, yet hundreds of the ministers of the Prince of Peace made that sacred day hideous with their wolfish howls for blood."

SUBMISSION RIDICULED.—The Richmond Examiner thus speaks of the spirit of submission which it notices in some Southern journals:

We are to sing through our noses the "Psalm of Life," and bid "the dead past bury its dead." We are to hush all the noble voices that ring in our ears still out of the struggles of the last four years. We are to yield to that strange delusion, which is so common in the case of individuals—that peculiar infatuation which leads so many to think that silence annihilates the past. "Say nothing more about it and be good friends!" as if our bloody debate had been a nursery quarrel, and Abel could get up to shake hands with Cain.

VIEWS OF AN OBSERVER.—"Dixon," the very able correspondent of the Boston Daily Advertiser, after traveling on foot and horseback all over the South, and conversing freely with both white and black, comes to the conclusion that it will not be safe for some time to come to entrust the Southern whites with the reins of government. He says the only chance of safety for the freedmen consists in the maintenance of the Freedmen's Bureau and the continuance of the military occupation.

SOUTH CAROLINA MATTERS.—An officer who has been stationed in South Carolina during the war, has written a private letter, a part of which appears in the Norwalk Reporter, as follows:

Gen. Grant was in Charleston yesterday, and we expect him here to-day or to-morrow. I would like to see him, and undoubtedly will. Department headquarters have gone up to Charleston, and it is rather desolate here, but will be more so when the 6th Infantry goes away.

I have heard nothing of our going home, and do not believe anything will be done about it until after Congress meets, and decides what is to be the standard of excellence desired in the Southern States to make them good and loyal. South Carolina is not as loyal as she was six months ago, and is getting worse every day. There is actually a large proportion of the people in the State who believe they will receive pay for their emancipated slaves, and that their State debt will be taken up and paid out of the National Treasury; and the attempt will be made, as sure as fate, if Southern Congressmen elect are allowed seats in Congress, and they are counting on that as a certainty. The President of the State Senate voted against repealing the ordinance of secession—emancipating the slaves, and is opposed to repudiating the rebel debt. It is just such men as he that are elected to office throughout the South and by whom the chivalry are to be represented in Congress. The war ought to have lasted two two years longer, for the purpose of allowing Sherman to raid at will through all the Southern States. One twentieth of the outrages perpetrated in this State, by the whites on the poor negroes, is not, and never will be known in the North, for the very good reason that the State papers keep silent. Negroes are found hung, with their throats cut, mutilated, and whipped to death, all over the middle and western portion of the State, yet the cowardly white hounds go unwhipped of justice, because the county officers will make no effort to arrest them. They have even gone so far as to murder our white and colored soldiers; yet I have seen no notice of such outrages in our northern papers. I wish I was at my regiment, just to furnish daily items of horror to the New York papers—for a check to this spontaneous outburst of love for the "misguided Southerners," altogether of too mushroom a character to be of long growth.

OH! FOR THE DAYS OF BROOKS!—The Newbern (N. C.) Times chafes at the delay in the admission of the Southern members, and displayed one of its reasons for having them in their seats, as follows:

"When we witness the action of such men as Sumner—at a time when all the energies of a great government have been used to re-establish a broken Union—when we see men like the great Massachusetts Senator fighting with all the zeal which a madman can summon against the policy of the Administration—the wicked part of the Adamic race cannot be kept down. The mind involuntarily reverts to the time when Brooks' cane was freely used, and the heart can at this hour sigh of regret that the distinguished New Englander did not 'hand in his checks,' like an honest man who was tired of life."

The Attempted Assassination of Judge Field

The following account of the attempted assassination of Hon. Stephen J. Field, Associate Justice of the United States Supreme Court, is taken from the San Francisco Bulletin of Jan. 27th:

We have for some days had knowledge of the graphic details of the attempt to murder Judge Field at Washington, by means of an infernal machine sent to him through the San Francisco Post Office; but as it was understood that all the details were in the hands of the police of San Francisco, and particularly under the charge of Chief Burke, we have refrained from any publication of them, so that we might not by any chance interfere with their investigations. But as we now find that this information is current in many channels—everybody pledged of course to keep it secret—we are of opinion that one half of the community will no longer keep its knowledge secret from the other half, and the facts having really become public ought to be publicly and accurately announced.

On the 15th of January, 1866, Judge Field received a package through the Washington post office, which bore the post mark of the San Francisco post office of December 31st. The package was so large that it could not have been deposited in the postoffice in this city through the drop letter box, but must have been passed into the San Francisco post office through the delivery opening. It was not addressed to Judge Field at Washington in the handwriting of any person, but the direction "Hon. Stephen J. Field" was cut out of the fly leaf of the reports of the decisions of the Supreme Court of California, while he was Chief Justice, and the local direction "Washington, D. C." was cut out of a newspaper, and both were pasted on the outside of the package. The package sped on its way, without any betraying trace of the murderer's handwriting.

It was received by Judge Field, at his chambers in Washington, on January 16th. He had opened the other letters received by him by the mail that day, and was about opening this murderous package, when he called the attention of Judge Delos Lake, who was present, to the peculiar form of the package, which he was then on the point of opening, when Judge Lake instantly intervened, and by suggesting the idea of an infernal machine prevented Judge Field from opening the package. The machine was then taken into the street and crushed in such a manner as to ensure the safety of the by standers in case of an explosion. Fortunately it did not explode, but was crushed so as to disclose its internal construction. It was so arranged that by lifting the cover of the box a fuse would be lighted, which would instantaneously ignite a mass of gunpowder, and explode a number of ball cartridges, pointed in every direction, causing instant death to every person present.

A telegram was immediately sent in cypher to the military officers in charge of this Division containing a minute and precise description of the infernal machine, and by a not unusual coincidence, the telegraphic lines failed immediately afterwards, so that the police, in whose hands the matter was instantly placed, had a full week for their investigations before any news of the matter reached the public. But the telegraphic information was so minute and precise that the police were enabled to construct an infernal machine on the same model, which, being discharged by the mere lifting of the cover, exploded cartridge balls in a circle in every direction, penetrating pine boards an inch in thickness! If this murderous engine had been exploded by Judge Field, in the act of opening it, there can hardly be a doubt that it would have caused not only his instant death, but the death of every person present.

It is hardly within the province of the public press to sit in judgment on a case so complicated as this; and accordingly, although those who know Judge Field, his antecedents and his position, must be satisfied that this murderous assault is owing to his position of Judge, we shall not attempt to suggest whether the assassins were actuated by resentment for the past, or fears for the future. But it is proper to note the fact, now, as we believe, in all history, that an anonymous attempt has been made to assassinate a Judge merely because he occupied that position. History records many assassinations of the chiefs of State, of Prime Ministers, and of Privy Councilors, but these are ranged in one class, as political assassinations. Such were those of Cæsar, Henry III. and Henry IV. of France, William of Orange, Speaker Percival, and President Lincoln; and the attempted assassinations of George III., Napoleon I., President Jackson, Louis Phillippe and Napoleon III. Others have had their origin in the vengeance—that sharp, natural justice—which often follows the violation of the sacred rights of a husband, among which must probably be classed the murder of the Duc de Berri, son of Charles X., and therefore the heir presumptive to the Bourbon dynasty, and father of the actual Count de Chambord, who now claims the throne of France by divine right, as the hereditary successor of St. Louis.

But the attempted assassination of Judges, is, we believe, a new feature in the history of civilization, and, we would gladly believe, a trait which does not belong to Anglo-Saxon impulses. A Judge to be murdered because either he has already decided against the wishes of a private suitor, or because it is feared that he will so decide! We fear the police are not on the right track. Should they not follow the traces of those candidates for the lunatic Asylum whose anticipated acts of mania have not yet become so public as to be actually demonstrable!

ATLANTIC CABLE.—The Atlantic Telegraph Company announce that the next laying of the new cable will be commenced in June of the coming year. The company is not only in funds sufficient for this renewed adventure, but they have means enough at their disposal to enable them to set about picking up the lost cable and completing the connection with Trinity Bay, according to the programme of last summer.

General Remarks.

Revenue stamps may be used indiscriminately upon any of the matters or things enumerated in Schedule B, except proprietary and playing card stamps, for which a special use has been provided.

Postage stamps cannot be used in payment of the duty chargeable on instruments.

It is the duty of the maker of an instrument to affix and cancel the stamp required thereon. If he neglects to do so, the party for whose use it is made may stamp it before it is used, but in no case can it be legally used without a stamp. An instrument subject to stamp duty but issued and used unstamped prior to August 1, 1864 may be rendered valid by stamping it as required by section 163 of the Act of June 30, 1864; if issued since, the case falls under section 158 of said Act as amended by the Act of March 3, 1865.

Suits are commenced in many States by other process than by writ, viz: summons, warrant, publication, petition, &c., in which cases these as the original processes, severally require stamps.

The jurat of an affidavit, taken before a justice of the peace, notary public or other officer duly authorized to take affidavits, is held to be a certificate, and subject to a stamp duty of five cents, except when taken in suits or legal proceedings.

Certificates of Loan, in which there shall appear any written or printed evidence of an amount of money to be paid on demand, or at a time designated, are subject to stamp duty as "Promissory Notes."

The assignment of a mortgage is subject to the same stamp duty as that imposed upon the original instrument, that is to say, for every sum of five hundred dollars, or any fractional part thereof, of the amount secured by the mortgage at the time of its assignment, there must be affixed a stamp or stamps denoting a duty of fifty cents.

When two or more persons join in the execution of an instrument the stamp to which the instrument is liable under the law may be affixed and cancelled by either of them.

In conveyances of real estate the law provides that the stamp affixed must answer to the value of the estate or interest conveyed.

No stamp is required on any warrant of attorney accompanying a bond or note when such bond or note has affixed thereto the stamp or stamps denoting the duty required; and when ever any bond or note is secured by mortgage, but one stamp duty is required on such papers, such stamp duty being the highest rate required for such instruments, or either of them. In such case a note or memorandum of the value or denomination of the stamp affixed should be made upon the margin or in the acknowledgment of the instrument which is not stamped.

THE STANDARD

AMERICAN BILLIARD TABLES!

AND COMBINATION CUSHIONS.

MESSRS. PHELAN & COLLENDER

WOULD RESPECTFULLY CALL THE ATTENTION of persons wanting Billiard Tables to the great superiority of the above tables, manufactured exclusively at their establishment.

At the Billiard Congress of 1863, composed of all the first class players of America, it was unanimously resolved that tables of our manufacture should be used at all matches for the Championship, as the best and only reliable tables.

These Billiard Tables have received the unqualified approval of the best players and most competent judges, who have universally pronounced them unequaled for general excellence and durability.

Seven distinct patents for improvements in Billiard Tables have been granted to us by the United States Patent Office, and we have lately obtained a Patent from the French Government, for our improvement in Billiard Cushions.

We employ in the construction of our tables, a variety of machines specially made for the purpose, by means of which we are enabled to insure a scientific and mechanical accuracy hitherto unknown in Billiard manufacture.

Having a long experience and thorough knowledge of all the appliances of Billiards, and constantly on hand a large stock of the best and most thoroughly seasoned materials, we are prepared to furnish everything required in the Billiard line with unprecedented dispatch.

The eminent French Billiard Player M. Berger has published the following opinion:

NEW YORK, 2d August 1861.

"On the eve of leaving the United States, I am happy to declare to all amateurs of Billiards that after a tour of eleven months through the principal cities, I have been enabled to judge in a satisfactory manner of the superiority of the Billiard Tables manufactured by Phelan & Collender. The system of manufacturing is so superior that I am happy to introduce their style of cushion into France. They have united to their manufacture of American Billiard Tables that of the French Tables, of remarkable excellence and beauty. For these reasons, I am happy to make this declaration.

"BERGER CLAUDIUS,
Prof. of Billiards, Paris."

Parties ordering from us will find our prices as low as good work can possibly be made for. We sell first class articles at a fair price, and will not make an inferior article at any price.

Orders by mail carefully and promptly executed. Illustrated Catalogues and Price Lists sent by mail. The "BILLIARD CUE," a Journal published in the interest of Billiards, and containing details of all novelties, a copious record of Billiard news and everything of interest to amateurs of Billiards, sent free on application.

ITS ACTION IS EXPECTORANT, ALTERATIVE, SUDORIFIC, SEDATIVE, DIAPHORETIC AND DIURETIC, which renders it one of the most valuable remedies known for curing diseases of the lungs. Such is the immediate and satisfactory effect, that it is WARRANTED TO BREAK UP THE MOST DISTRESSING COUGH IN A FEW HOURS' TIME, if not of too long standing. IT IS WARRANTED to give entire satisfaction even in the MOST CONFIRMED CASES OF CONSUMPTION! IT IS WARRANTED NOT to produce costiveness (which is the case with most remedies) or affect the head, as it contains no Opium in any form. IT IS WARRANTED TO BE PERFECTLY HARMLESS to the most delicate child, although it is an active and powerful remedy for restoring the system.
